THE ORIGIN OF GOLD.

The Fallen looked on the world and sneered;
"I can guess," he muttered, "why God is feared.
For the eyes of mortals are fain to shun
The midnight heaven that hath no sun.
I will stand on the height of hills that wait
Where the days goes out at the western gate,
And, reaching up to its crown, will tear
From its plumes of glory the brightest there;
With the stolen ray I will light the sod,
And turn the eyes of the world from God."

He stood on the height when the sun went down,
He tore one plume from the day's bright crown,
The proud beam stooped till he touched its brow,
And the print of his fingers are on it now;
And the blush of its anger forevermore
Burns red when it passes the western door.
The broken feather above him whirled,
In flames of torture around him curled,
And he dashed it down on the snowy height,
In broken flashes of quivering light;
Ah! more than terrible was the shock
Where the burning splinters struck wave and rock!
The green earth shuddered, and shrank, and paled—
The wave sprang up and the mountain quailed.
Look on the hills, let the scars they bear
Measure the pain of the hour's despair.

The Fallen watched while the whirlwind fanned
The pulsing splinters that plowed the sand;
Sullen he watched, while the hissing waves
Bore them away to the ocean caves;
Sullen he watched, while the shining rills
Throbbed through the hearts of the rocky hills;
Loudly he laughed, "Is the world not mine?
Proudly the links of its chain shall shine;
Lighted with gems shall its dungeon be,
But the pride of its beauty shall kneel to me."
Thus splintered light in the earth grew cold,
And the diction of mortals hath called it "Gold."

RUSSIAN AMERICA.

Probably the best description to be found of the vast territory recently purchased from Russia by our Government is given in a pamphlet published in 1855, by Mr. A. R. Roche, of Quebec. This pamphlet ("Russian America and the present War") was written with a view of urging the British Government to aid in fitting out an expedition for the conquest of Russian America, and its annexation to the British possessions, but the war with Russia came to a close in the following year, and the project, if ever seriously entertained in England, was of course no longer thought of. We quote from the pamphlet a description of some features of the territory just ceded to the United States:

"With a coast upon the Pacific of some fifteen hundred miles in length, indented by numerous sounds and capacious harbors, and studded with many large islands of considerable resources, it extends back, for about one thousand miles of that coast, to a distance of nine hundred miles, and for the remaining five hundred miles of the coast, to thirty miles, the latter being the portion in front of our possessions which it cuts off from the Pacific; while the peninsula of Alaska, about fifty miles in breadth, stretches out in the Pacific for upwards of three hundred miles, the whole territory comprising a surface of nine hundred thousand square miles. It is thus about sixteen times the size of England. It contains many mountain ranges of great height, and fine valleys, magnificently watered and fertilized by large lakes and rivers; the mountain ranges in the upper and broader portion of the territory having a transverse direction, and therefore sheltering the valleys from northerly winds, which in that quarter are cold winds in summer, while, extraordinary as it may appear to many, in winter they invariably cause a rise in the thermometer. At both these seasons southerly winds produce effects directly opposite to the former, being warm winds in summer and cold winds in winter. A great portion of this vast region (in some places to within a short distance of the Arctic Circle), is covered with forests of the largest and most valuable trees. Even upon some of the islands of Prince William's Sound, in 61 degrees north latitude, where it might be expected that the influence of the wind and sea would prevent or retard the growth of trees, Cook found the Canadian and spruce pine of a large size; and of the country adjacent to Norton Sound, lying in 64 degrees and 55 minutes north latitude, he says: "From the elevated spot on which Mr. King surveyed the sound, he could distinguish many extensive valleys, with rivers running through them, well wooded, and bounded by hills of a gentle ascent and moderate height. One of these rivers appeared to be of considerable size. Some of the people, who penetrated beyond this into the country, found the trees larger the farther they advanced." In speaking of the resources of Russian America, Sir John Richardson, in his work upon the 'Arctic searching expedition,' quotes Bongard with regard to one portion of it, who says that the 'hill of Westevoi, near Norfolk sounds, in north latitude 58 degrees, which is 3,000 feet, French measure, in height, is clothed to its summit by a dense forest of pines and spruces, some of which acquire a circumference of twenty-one feet, and the prodigious length of one hundred and sixty feet, and that the hollow trunk of one of these trees, made into a canoe, is able to contain thirty men with all their household effects! Sir John Richards adds: 'The climate of Sitka,' (the name of the bay as well as the island upon which is situated New Archangel, the chief port of the Russian company, lying in 57 degrees north latitude,) 'is very much milder than that of Europe on the same parallel, the cold of winter being neither severe nor of long continuance. The humidity of the atmosphere gives astonishing vigor to the vegetation, but although the forest, nourished by a very moist atmosphere and comparatively high mean temperature, is equal to that of the richest woodlands of the Northern United States, yet corn does not ripen there. This humidity of the atmosphere, which is occasioned by the surrounding sea, is doubtless the cause of corn not coming to perfection at Sitka; for some distance in the interior of the continent, as far east as the Mackenzie, in the territory occupied by the Hudson Bay Company, the cereals are successfully cultivated up to sixty degrees north latitude, and occasionally in some spots situated five degrees further north.' In the neighborhood of the Mackenzie, Sir John Richardson says that 'Fort Laird, of the sixtieth parallel, may be considered as the northern limit of the economical of wheat,' as in the interior of Russian America the climate must be of a drier nature than upon the seaboard, and probably more in the extreme, that is, colder in winter and warmer in summer, much of the interior may be well adapted for the growth of the cereals, although they cannot be successfully cultivated at the Russian establishments upon the coast. The harbor of Sitka, and several other fine harbors are open during the whole winter; thus showing an extraordinary contrast to the opposite coast of Asia, which are ice-bound for three parts of the year. Even as high up as Behring Straits great difference of climate exists between the coast of the Asiatic and American continents. In his 'Travels Round the World,' Sir George Simpson remarks that, although at some points Behring's Straits are only forty-five miles wide, in the general appearance of the two coasts there is a marked difference, the western side being low, flat and sterile, while the eastern is well wooded, and in every respect better adapted than the other for the sustenance of both man and beast. Moreover, the soil and climate improve rapidly on the American shore as one descends, and at Cook's inlet, (in 60 degrees N. latitude,) 'potatoes may be raised with ease,' although they hardly ripen in any part of Kamschatka, which extends nearly ten degrees south. Thus, both in soil and climate, the great portion of Russian America, bordering upon the sea, is not inferior to the eastern coasts of America and Asia, whether lying in the same, or in a much lower parallel. Sitka, for instance, which is in 58 degrees north latitude, has a climate almost as temperate as that of London, in 51 degrees north latitude, (the mean annual temperature of the former being 45 degrees 44 minutes, and that of the latter 49 degrees 70 minutes,)—and it has also about as mild a winter as the southern portion of Japan, situated in a much lower latitude. The superiority, however, of the soil and climate of Russian America, over the soil and climate of the opposite coasts of Asia, has been observed from the time of Kotzebue up to the present moment.

"But we have still more recent evidence of the comparative mildness of the climate upon the American side, even in a higher latitude. At Point Barrow, in 71 degrees north, where there is a large Esquimaux village, and where Her Magisty's ship Plover wintered in 1852—3, her commander, Lieutenant Pullan, reported that during the entire winter the fall of snow did not exceed one foot in depth, and that on the coldest day the thermometer only marked 45 degrees below zero; a degree of cold not much greater than that which was experienced at Quebec last winter, where, also, the entire quantity of snow which fell during that period was about fifteen times greater than that reported as above to have fallen during the winters of 1852—3 at Point Barrow, situated 20 degrees further north.

"Of the many large rivers which flow through Russian America, none of them have been explored to their resources; but several of them, such as the Colville, the Stikine, the Yukon or Kwichpack, and Kukokwin, are supposed to run a course of upwards of one thousand miles, and to be navigable for a considerable distance. From their breadth as well as their length, and the volume of water which they discharge into the sea, they may certainly be included among rivers of the first-class. The Colville, which was discovered by Simpson and Deese since the Convention of 1825, is two miles wide at its mouth in the Artic Sea, where Captain McClure observed its influence twelve or fourteen miles out at sea, the water at that distance being of a dirty mud color, and scarcely salt. The Stikine enters the Pacific at fifty degrees fifty minutes north latitude, where it is three miles wide, and at a distance of thirty miles from the sea has a width of one mile; but its source is in British Territory. Of the Yuken, or Kwichpack, Sir John Richardson says: "It rises to the west of the Rock mountains, not far from the union of the Francis and Lewis, which forms the Pelly, flows first to the north, and after receiving a large tributary named the Porcupine, to the westward, falls into Behring's Sea," and that "in 60 degrees north latitude, and 141 degrees west longitude," which is about one mile and a quarter wide. These three magnificent rivers, falling into different seas, probably represent three distinct river systems of the northwest corner of this continent, each being fed by numerous smaller, yet considerable, streams, and the three together draining an extent of country much larger than the whole of Canada. The Ras River, mentioned by Mr. Ibister, of the Hudson Bay Company's service, in a communication to the Royal Geographical Society, flows from Russian America through the Rocky Mountains at the first complete break in the chain in 67 degrees north latitude into the Mackenzie of the British territory, the latter having, according to Sir John Richardson, a course of 2,800 miles, (800 longer than the St. Lawrence); and an unbroken navigation, fit for steamboats, from its entrance to the Arctic Sea to the Portage of the Drowned, a distance of from twelve to thirteen hundred miles. In addition to the Russian territory being everywhere drained by the finest rivers, it contains many large lakes communicating with the former, and is indented with numerous deep and spacious harbors, and also by several extensive arms of the sea. Of the latter, Cook's inlet runs upwards of two hundred miles into the land, these lakes and rivers, and these inlets and harbors, may be viewed as very important features of the country. They not only assist to temper the climate (the former by draining the land which generally shapes towards the sea and towards the Mackenzie, and the latter by the salt atmosphere, which their waters diffuse through the interior), but they tend to enrich the soil upon their banks, by a short period of overflow in the spring, and may be made to afford facilities for inter-communication, rendering accessible the most retired and most sheltered valleys, and for the establishment and active prosecution of an outward commerce."

THE Scientific American contains the following account of a very desirable article for every household:

"A simple instrument for making artificial ice, is now manufactured in Paris, by which a beautiful cylinder of ice is produced in ten minutes, or a bottle of wine or other article can be reduced to the freezing point of water in the same receptacle. The instrument consists of two metallic cylinders united, one within the other, the space between them being devoted to the freezing mixture, and the interior of the smaller cylinder to the water or other articles to be cooled. These being introduced, the cover is put on, and the cylinder is rolled to and fro on a table by the hand. The chemicals consisted formerly of one part each of water, subcarbonate of soda and nitrate of ammonia, but for the latter a cheaper salt not mentioned is now substituted, and the mixture is put up in quantities sufficient to make seven pounds of ice (if we reckon correctly from the indirect statement before us) for fifty centimes, or less than one dime. The instrument costs ten francs. It is called glacier roulante."

SATURDAY NIGHT.

Six more days—six sun rises and sun sets—six gloomy nights to the silent toilers who sit by the flickering light which consumes the oil of life—have passed, to be numbered with the many other half dozens which have preceded them since the dawn of creation. And, reader, let us sit together to-night and look back over the brief vista of years that we have been awake to the crowding realities surrounding us and ask our hearts if we have grown older by experience or better by years—more pure by age and warmer at heart—if we have traveled nearer heaven, or drifted further into the realms of Doubt. What have all these brief fleeting years done for you and us, or rather what have we done for them? Have we done more than live, eat and drink, sleep and wake, struggle and rest, weep and laugh? Have we made a single mark or sign on the Maker's Footstool which shall lead other erring feet from the rough and uncertain road which we have ever traveled, that will live after us to bless us? Not one. Twenty, thirty, forty, fifty, perhaps sixty years are gone, never to be recalled! They are swallowed up in the great sea of Time like tear drops in the ocean of eternity—gone! Age is creeping along over these earthly houses in which we dwell; disease, like the house breaker, has often picked the worn locks and entered the rickety doors and robbed the body of health—they were but forerunners to tell of the mortality, the crumbling nature of the house that is built upon sand and cannot prevail against the storms of time! We have been warned, and how often leave we the doors open to the intrusion of the prowler! Pallid, clammy, suffering disease not alone has entered by the doors and windows of these tenements. Before it came the syren of Temptation and Violation, and Excess. Do they still come welcomed guests in the old tenements—these old frames, almost past occupation? Alas! we fear they are boon companions, and come still by invitation! It was but yesterday, as it were, that you and us, reader, sat upon the mother's knee and dreamed the innocent dreams of unpolluted childhood. Look at us to day! It was yesterday as it were that we prayed with baby lips from baby hearts "Hallowed be Thy name—Thy kingdom come!" Do we still hallow the Father's name, and pray that the kingdom come to us?

Saturday night, when the toil and struggle of the six days of Temptation are going to sleep, is a good time to think of these things. The hearth, with its glowing coals and fancy broodings, and past recallings, and present forgettings, is a good time to give a thought to these things. Here may we ask ourself the question, what are we living for? Is it merely to gain food, wealth and place in the world? To climb the earthly eminence and reach their pinnacles a day only before death! What are all these to you and us, reader, if we are to go to sleep soon and be known no more in this shadowy and uncertain existence?—Sentinel on the Border, Evansville, Ind.

A GENTLEMAN traveling to Pittsburgh from one of the neighboring towns, stopped to see a friend, and left his horse tied on the road. On his return he found that the animal had slipped his bridle, and while in search of him he met an Irish pedestrian, of whom he inquired—

"Have you seen a strange creature any where hereabouts, with a saddle on his back?"

"Och, by the powers, ye may say that," replied Pat.

"Where?"

"Just yonder."

"Will you show me the place?"

"That I will, in less than no time," said the man, approaching a small wood of young timber. "Ay, there he is, sure enough, honey."

The gentleman looked up, and said:

"I do not see him."

"Then, by Saint Patrick, you must be blind! Not see him? Just cast your eyes in that direction. Och, by the powers of mud, what's be about now? Only see, he swallows his head!"

"Why, sir, that's a turtle, and not a horse."

"A horse! and who is the deuce said it was a horse? Sure a horse is not a strange creature," he added, pointing to it with fear and trembling; "and he has a saddle on; but hang me if I'd bridle him for the whole country."

ONE OF JOSH BILLINGS' MAXIMS.—"Rise airly, work hard and late, live on what you can't sell, give nothing away, and if you don't die ritch and go to the devil you may sue me for damages."

Measuring Distance by Sound.

A bell rung under water returns a tone as distinct as though rung in the air.

Stop one ear with the finger, and press the other to the end of a long stick or piece of dead wood: and if a watch be held at the other end of the wood, ticking will be heard, whatever the length of the stick of wood.

Tie a poker on the middle of a strip of flannel two or three feet long, and pass your thumbs or fingers into your ears while you swing the poker against an iron fender, and you will hear a sound like that of a heavy church bell.

These experiments prove that water, wood, and flannel are good conductors of sound, for the sound of the bell, the watch, and the fender pass through the water, and along the deal and flannel to the ear.

It must be observed that a body in the act of sounding is in a state of vibration, which it communicates to the surrounding air, the undulations of the sound affect the ear, and excite in us the sense of sound. Sounds of all kinds, it is ascertained, travel at the rate of fifteen miles in a minute; the softest whisper travels as fast as the most tremendous thunder. The knowledge of this fact has been applied to the measurement of distance.

Suppose a ship in distress fires a gun, the light of which is seen on shore, or by another vessel, twenty seconds before the report is heard, it is known to be at a distance of 7,600 yards, or little more than four and a quarter miles.

Again, if we see a vivid flash of lightning, and in two seconds hear a tremendous clap of thunder, we know that the thunder cloud is not more than 760 yards from the place where we are and we should instantly retire from an exposed situation.—Scientific American.

WHICH HALF.—Here is an English story of the times, a bank-panic incident, which must not be lost. In the midst of the excitement, and at the moment when everybody thought all the banks were going to the dogs together, Jones rushed into the bank of which he was a stockholder, and thrusting a certificate into the clerk's face, he said, in great haste:

"Here, please transfer half of that to James F. Smith."

The clerk looked at it, and asked:

"Which half, Mr. Jones?"

"I don't care which half," replied Jones, puzzled at the inquiry.

"You had better go to the Courts; I can't make the transfer without a legal decision. If you really wish to transfer your other half to Mr. Smith, we cannot do it here."

Jones was confounded. He knew the banks were all in a muddle, but this was too deep for him. He took his certificate from the hands of the smiling clerk, and on looking on it, lo! it was his marriage certificate! Being a printed form, on fine paper, and put among his private papers, it was the first thing that Mr. Jones laid hand on when he went to his secretary for bank stock scrip. He went home, kissed his wife, glad to find the lady's lane transferred to Mr. Smith, and taking the right papers this time, hastened down town in time to get it all straight.

ONE EVENING a parent was hearing his little Johnny recite his Sunday school lesson. It was in the 13th chapter of Matthew, wherein it relates of the malicious individual who went about sowing tares, &c.

"What is a tare?" the parent interrupted to inquire.

Johnny hesitated.

"Tell me, my son, what a tare is."

"You have had 'em," said Johnny, casting down his eyes and wriggling his feet.

"Had 'em!" said the astonished parent, opening his eyes rather wide, "why, what do you mean, Johnny?"

"When you didn't come home for three days last week," said Johnny, "I heard mother tell aunt Susan you was off on a tare." The Sunday school lesson was brought to an abrupt close, and Johnny, who knew too much altogether to sit up any later, was sent to bed.

"ACCORDING to Milton, Eve kept silent in Eden to let her husband talk," said a gentleman to a lady friend, and then added in a melancholy tone, "Alas there have been no Eves since." "Because there have been no husbands worth listening to," was the quick retort.

A YOUNG lady stopped into a store of a merchant by the name of Wade, and very innocently said she would like to be waded (Wade). "Really I am very sorry," said he, "but my wife will tell you that you are too late by a couple of years."

Democratic County Committee.

The Democratic County Committee of Cambria county are respectfully requested to meet at the Court House in Ebensburg, on Wednesday the 15th day of May next, for the purpose of transacting business relating to the coming election. A general attendance is requested. The following gentlemen compose said Committee: Wm. Buck, Jos. Mardis, A. Martz, Francis Beaver, Henry Bender, Daniel McDonald, P. J. McKenzie, C. Warner, David Farner, John H. Douglass, John Devlin, Edward Connery, Peter Brown, Rees J. Lloyd, John Sharbaugh, John Menlon, John Cooney, John H. Kennedy, George Gurley, Charles O'Hagan, D. F. A. Grier, Hugh Bradley, J. B. M'Creight, Jos. Boxler, James King, Geo. Shaffer, Francis O'Friel, Thos. Judge, Edward Farren, John White, James Costelow, James Burk, John M'Colgan, Christian Walters, John F. Allen.

GEO. C. K. ZAHM, Chairman.

OPENING THE CAMPAIGN.

In commenting upon the advice given in the last FREEMAN to the Democratic Committee of Cambria county the Philadelphia Age, after reviewing the shameful proceedings of Congress, the manifest indifference of that body to the best interests of the whole country, and the plain and undeniable fact that our own Legislature, in all its acts and doings, was controlled by bribery and swayed by the most abominable corruption that ever disgraced any Commonwealth, it goes on to say:

"The rallying point in the coming campaign must be honest, intelligent, incorruptible men as candidates for all the offices. No others should be thought of or presented. They must be sought out in retirement and importuned to accept office at this time for the good of the State and nation. If this plan is adopted and adhered to by the Democratic party, they can present tickets that will command success. There are thousands of tax-payers tired of excessive taxation; mechanics dissatisfied with the attempt made by the Radical party to put the negro on an equality with their wives in the cars, or their children in the public schools; manufacturers whose business has been ruined by the action of Congress, and honest men of all shades of political opinions willing to act with the Democratic party if they present the proper kind of standard-bearers this fall. But we must free ourselves from all complications with the bad men who figured in the last Legislature. The people know them. They cannot be deceived. If they must vote for a political trader, a man who sells his influence in the Legislature, they will cast their ballots on their own side of the house. To insure success, to open the campaign in a proper manner, we must speak of men as they are, and demand the sacrifice of all who will stand in the way of a Democratic victory in October. The crisis demands fearless action on the part of those having the success of the party at heart, such action as will make the selection of bad candidates an impossibility, and true Democrats in all portions of the State must be willing to assume a full share of the responsibility of such a movement."

THE GREAT POWERS seem determined that a war shall not take place between France and Prussia on the Luxemburg question. Queen Victoria has proposed a Congress of European powers to be held in London for the purpose of adjusting the matter on the basis of a neutralization of the Duchy, and it is stated that both France and Prussia have agreed to the meeting and the proposition. The arrangement of the details, however, will be attended with some difficulty, as both Napoleon and Bismarck will be anxious to get the best of the bargain. The English movement, while it does not make war an impossibility, is well calculated to heal the breach between France and Prussia, or, at least, allow them an opportunity to occupy other grounds on the vexed and disputed issue. The meeting of the Congress is fixed for May, and it is likely all the Great Powers will be represented.

THE GEORGIA INJUNCTION was argued before the Supreme Court on the 26th, but went over until the 3d of May. Charles O'Conner delivered a most powerful argument lasting two hours and-a-half, and left no unprejudiced mind in doubt as to the unconstitutionality and gross infamy of the military despotism bill. As the Court is now constituted, however—being a mere appendage to the Rump Congress, and having existence only at the pleasure of that infamous cabal—there is but little probability that the injunction will be granted.

WM. BUTLER, of Springfield, Illinois, a Radical of the first water, and who it is said made $250,000 out of cotton transactions during the war at the South, when asked a few days since to subscribe something for the relief of the starving people in that section of country, wrote as follows on the subscription paper:

"I will give the amount set opposite my name for the purchase of lead to be used in the South, provided the same is used by a loyal agent. W. M. BUTLER, $50."

THE WAY IT WAS DONE.

Some two weeks ago we copied from the Harrisburg Patriot & Union an account of the manner in which the bill changing the venue of the suits against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, growing out of the 14th of September catastrophe at Johnstown, from Cambria to Centre counties, came to be foisted upon the people as a law of the Commonwealth. Below we give a letter from our representative, Col. John P. Linton, addressed to the editors of the Johnstown Democrat, which fully explains how this act became a law without the aid of and directly contrary to the action of the Legislature in regard to the matter:

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Many persons have inquired of me for the particulars connected with the passing of the bill authorizing the Penn'a Railroad to change the venue in the actions brought against it by those injured on the 14th September last. Knowing it to be a matter of general interest in this community, and knowing also that the circumstances connected with the progress of that bill through the Houses are to say the least, very singular, I am induced to make the following statement.

The bill to change the venue to Blair county was introduced into the Senate by Senator Wallace and was there referred to the committee on Judiciary local. Before this committee Messrs. Johnston, McLaughlin and Potts appeared and made such statements as induced the committee to resolve to report the bill negatively. Apparently ascertaining this before any report could be made by the committee, the Railroad Company caused a motion to be made in the Senate to discharge the committee, which motion prevailed. The bill being thus brought before the Senate, Gen. White sought in vain to defeat it, but finding the influence of the Railroad too potent, he endeavored to amend it by substituting some other county for Blair. Somerset, Allegheny, Westmoreland and Indiana were severally voted down, but at last Centre was agreed to by a majority.

In this shape, changing the venue to Centre county, the bill came into the House, and was referred to the proper committee. Without giving me notice this committee acted on the bill favorably, but got no opportunity to report until the 5th inst. On Tuesday the 9th, two days before the final adjournment, it came up in order, and on my motion Somerset county was substituted for Centre, by a vote of 55 yeas. The fact that this substitution was made is incontrovertible. The Journal of the House, the Record, the interlineations and marks on the original bill, the vote, the recollections of the Speaker, the Clerks and many of the Members with whom I conversed, all unite in sustaining the assertion. There can be no doubt that the amendment was made. As amended, the Bill passed the House by a vote of 45 to 42 against it, and having laid over for third reading till Wednesday, was on that day passed by the House as amended.

At this point the singular part of this transaction appears. Though the bill was amended as above stated, and though it went into the transcribing room with these amendments inserted, it was transcribed and returned to the Senate as having passed the House without amendment. This must have been late on Wednesday afternoon, and at a late hour that night the bill was signed by the Governor, who was, of course, ignorant of the circumstances connected with its passage. On Thursday before dinner, when trying to learn the situation of the bill, I found that on that morning a certified copy had already been obtained by an officer of the Company, and that the enrollment tax was paid.

I do not intend to comment. Every one must draw his own inferences from the facts as stated.

JOHN P. LINTON.

DESTITUTION AT THE SOUTH.—Yesterday we were shown a letter from a Washingtonian in the town of Madison, Georgia, which, we are sorry to announce, forcibly confirms the worst rumors of starvation in the South. The writer of this letter begs in the most piteous language for money to buy food for his starving family. He says: "I am without one cent, and have had no money in four weeks. I had to leave Atlanta to avoid starving to death, and my family are here without anything to eat. All the work is stopped here and elsewhere. I am not the only one in this fix, but thousands more are like me. In plain words there are awful times in this and other parts of the South. Starvation compels me to ask this favor of you. The facts here are a great deal worse than my pen can describe. I have been in this place seven days, and three meals are all my family have had since we arrived here. Excuse me if I am imposing on you, but I do this to save my family from starving."

The above is a heartrending picture indeed, and every purse string in the North should give way with the force of such a piteous appeal.—Washington Republican.

CAPT. C. A. M. ESTES, of the 25th infantry, commanding at Memphis, has informed the Mayor by letter that the decoration of the graves of Confederate soldiers by the ladies must be stopped. He says: "It becomes my duty, as the military representative of the government, to see that a stop be put, without delay, to such proceedings." Happy Government to have such a gallant captain, and happy captain to have the pleasure of representing a Government so free, so tolerant, so enlightened! God save "the freest Government on earth"—free to Radicals and niggers—a tyranny to all others.—Patriot & Union.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

—The Herald's special says: "The parties urging an injunction against the reconstruction law express confidence in their success."

—The President fears that public business will prevent his attendance at the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the monument of his father in North Carolina.

—A boy 13 years old, named Thomas P. Cahill, while coming out of the Boylston school yard at Boston on Wednesday of last week, was struck on the temple by a portion of the fence, which a gust of wind blew down and was instantly killed.

—Mrs. Dorcas Magilton, aged 62 years, was brutally murdered at her residence, No. 1309 Shippen street, Philadelphia, on Thursday afternoon last. A man named George Winnemore was arrested on suspicion of having committed the horrid deed.

—The Booth diary, says an exchange, will be published just as soon as Holt can find a man who is willing to swear that it has not been mutilated since taken from the body of Booth and placed in his hands. He is searching Massachusetts now, and it is said has found a man who is ready to take the desired oath.

—A two-barrel liquor distillery was lately seized by the Revenue officers near New York, and found to have a subterranean pipe connection with a rectifying establishment five hundred feet distant, into which eighteen out of twenty barrels of the "critter" were emptied every day—a saving of something like one thousand dollars per diem in taxes.

—At Junction City, Kansas, a man named Moore, while seated at the breakfast table with his wife and children, drew a revolver and shot his wife dead. In about two hours after shooting his wife he obtained a pillow, laid his wife's head upon it, laid down on the floor beside her, shot himself through the head with the revolver, and died in a few minutes.

—Sanford Conover, the perjured witness of the "Bureau of Military Justice," has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Albany penitentiary. His counsel have appealed to the Supreme Court of District of Columbia in banc, on the ground that he was sentenced under special statute after having been tried and convicted under the general statute.

—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says of the case of Wirz, the Andersonville captain, that "it is not known, and perhaps may never be, whether the crime was proved upon him or not. His was one of those military trials that constitute the darkest page in our recent political history, which we would be glad to blot out forever from human remembrance."

—A Wisconsin paper tells the story of a man who eloped with another's wife, but on going to the hotel breakfast table in Chicago, where such congenial spirits most do congregate, was filled with consternation at seeing his own wife with the man whose domestic happiness he thought he had wrecked forever. After consultation each escorted his wife back to his deserted hearthstone.

—A little boy at North Wilna, Jefferson county, was killed by a singular accident on Thursday last. Mr. Wood had a batting ram, and the boy was amusing himself by putting the handle of a pitch fork through a crack in the barn door for the ram to butt against. The ram butted at the handle and drove one of the tines into the boy's eye, penetrating the brain and killing him instantly.

—A very singular incident occurred at Bethlehem, Pa., a few days ago. A daughter of Sheriff Dissowsky, aged about ten years, left her home one morning in her apparent usual health, to go to school. During school hours she complained of pain in her eyes, and asked permission to go home. The request was granted, and she left the room, but before she reached her home, which is only about 500 yards from the school, she became totally blind. In this condition she was found by some person passing by and taken home. Up to this time all efforts to restore her sight have proven fruitless. She is so blind that she cannot even distinguish a burning gaslight.

THE SURRATT CASE.—A Washington telegram asserts as a probability that the trial of John H. Surratt will not take place in consequence of "a deep impression that his mother was innocent of the crime for wh ch she was hung, and that the trial of the son would only make the fact more apparent." But the omission to try the son will not make the fact less apparent. The deep impression that the mother was innocent is fast becoming a conviction in the public mind. The trial of the son would undoubtedly develop facts to render that conviction absolute; the refusal to try him, in the fear of such an effect, will result in the same thing. Either way, the Jacobin party cannot escape the Nemesis which is coming to avenge the death of an innocent woman by fastening the guilt of her murder upon that party.—Chicago Times.

IT is acknowledged by Physicians, Druggists, and everybody else who ever used it, that Dr. Strickland's Cough Balsam will cure Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, quicker and better than any other remedy known. We would recommend our readers to try this great remedy, knowing it to be A No. 1. 1m.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Friend Mac—My last concluded with "More Anon," so here I come again with—

KIND WORDS THAT CAN NEVER DIE.

"Kind words can never die;
Cherished and blest,
God knows how deep they lie
Stored in the breast."

We who are young and thoughtless, just entering upon the realities of life—who have still around us the loving tones and soft smiles of friends—we to whom the trials and weariness of our path on earth are as yet unknown—however dear to us may be the voices of love, however we may cherish the blessings of home—we do not, cannot know the full value of kind words. Those only who have felt the want of them can know their inestimable worth.

"Kind words can never die."

Though long, long years may have swept over the earth since the time when they were spoken; though the lips that gave them utterance may have long been hushed, the heart from which they flowed been long buried beneath the green turf, yet they are not lost—their memory still lives a cherished and blessed memory of the past. We need them all along our way on earth, in joy and sorrow. Alike are they welcome at the wedding-feast and the burial service. "Rejoicing with them that do rejoice and weeping with them that do weep." Could we only know how much usefulness lies in our power by the simple means of love, how many we might bless with our sympathy, we should not be sparing of it.

"Oh! deem it not an idle thing
An angry word to speak;
The look you wear, the thoughts you bring,
A heart may heal or break." D. A. C.

INSURANCE OF HORSES AND OTHER LIVE STOCK.—In another column will be found the advertisement of the Hartford Live Stock Insurance Company, which is in operation at Hartford, Connecticut, with a Capital of $500,000. Some of the wealthiest men in the New England States are Stockholders and Directors of this Company. Their names and resources afford ample evidence that its business will be wisely and justly conducted, and all proper claims upon it promptly met. It will insure the owners of valuable animals against losses by death and theft, and we are informed that the premiums it asks are quite moderate. Its business is already large and rapidly increasing. Many horses of great note are insured. Among them may be mentioned Dexter, Dan Rice, Stonewall Jackson, Lucy, etc. We have no hesitation in declaring our belief that here, at last, is a company for the insuring of Horses and other Live Stock, which is calculated to meet the wants of the community. Had it been in existence some time ago the owners of the very famous, valuable, and comparatively young horses, Balrownie and George M. Patchen, might have insured against a portion of the heavy loss they suffered.—New York Spirit of the Times.

THE LATEST AND BEST NEWS is that R. H. Singer, who, upon his entree into our town, reduced the price of horse-shoeing one-third, has determined still to lead the van, and offers to work 10 per cent. lower than the lowest for cash, and insures satisfaction. Persons needing tire on their wagons or carriages, can save dollars by giving him their work. "A dollar saved is a dollar gained," and the way to save many of them is to get your blacksmithing done with Mr. Singer, at the west end of town. Mr. S. is also selling I. C. Singer's unequalled Tire and Band Bender—a machine which saves a great amount of time and labor and bends the Tire round and true—of which Wm. Myers, of Altoona, says he would not take $100 and do without. Any amount of testimony just like that can be shown, but the machine is its own best recommendations to a mechanic. Persons wishing to purchase should call on or address R. H. SINGER, Ebensburg.

AN IMMENSE

DAN RICE'S GREAT SHOW AND SCHOOL OF EDUCATED ANIMALS.
COL. DAN RICE, Director.

The advance of the above named institution through this section of the country is an event of the great importance to the public, as it is an organization combining all that is

Moral, Instructive, and Entertaining, and dis-carding all the elements (found in so many travelling exhibitions) that would in the slightest degree prove offensive to the most sensitive and pious mind. The great show and animal school, under the immediate supervision of the distinguished scholar and humanitarian claims superiority over all its rivals in all the principles essential to the perfection of a

MORAL AND AMUSING EXHIBITION.

The great event of the amusement world for the season of '67 is the re-entree of

DAN RICE,

in his popular role of the AMERICAN HUMORIST, CLOWN TO THE ARENA. This event has only been brought about by the most earnest persuasion and the great desire of the publicto once more behold this noble gentleman in his original character; and as this is more than probably Mr. Rice's

FAREWELL TOUR,

none should fail to hear his humorous and learned expositions of the GREAT EVENTS OF THE DAY. Remember, therefore, that

DAN RICE

WILL MOST POSITIVELY appear at each and every exhibition of the great show, assuredly without fail, as CLOWN TO THE ARENA.

The perfect equipment of the entire exhibition has been the study of the management, and everything will be found complete and elegant.

THE WAGONS, TRAPPINGS, &c., have been renewed and equipped in the most SUPERB MANNER; and in the

which will take place daily at about 10 A. M., will form a blaze of splendor seldom if ever equalled.

The Mammoth Pavilion will be complete in all its details, and will be so arranged as to afford the best possible accomodations to the public, while comfortable SEATS WILL BE PROVIDED FOR ALL.

The Ring Performance, which is under the practised eye of COL. DAN RICE, will positively be, beyond doubt, the best in America.

DAN RICE

will daily introduce to his patrons a

Herd of Sacred Cattle!

The only ones in America, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. MR. RICE takes pleasure in stating that he will daily lecture on their history and peculiarities. He will also introduce the marvel of the scientific world, the DEAD TALKING HORSE,

EXCELSIOR, Jr.

A description of this intelligent creature would fail, as no pen can write or tongue describe his surprising exhibition of equine intelligence.

DAN RICE will also introduce the thorough-bred Arabian,

STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS!

The original comic mules,

PETE AND BARNEY,

the only ones in America, all others being but base imitators, will also be introduced in their side-splitting comicalities.

The Equestrian corps consists of the following well known and able artists:

M'LLE ELVIRA,
The Beautiful Premiere Equestrienne.
MR. RICHARD HEMMINGS,
The Nonpariel Horseman and Finished Tight-Rope Artist.
Messrs. BROWN & CANFORD,
The graceful masters of the School Gymnast.
MR. JOHN FOSTER,
Thomery Clown and able Jester.
MR. W. H. YOUNG,
The excellent Gymnast and skilled Pantomimist.
MR. GEORGE BROWN,
The dashing Equestrian.
MR. JOHN TREWALLA,
The able and efficient Master of the Ring.
MR. JAS. COOPER,
The Modern Athlete. Together with MLLE ROSA, MME RAZZELL, LA PETITE LENORA, AND MESSRS. HARMAN, BUCKLEY, BATROT, WELSH, MORGAN AND LA CLARE.

☞ THE GRAND ORCHESTRA
Of the great show is a marked feature, headed by the Great Maestro,

FRITZ MEYER, Esq.

The Pavilion will be brilliantly illuminated in the evening.

The Sire of Horses, Ponies and Mules
Had better been qualified in this country.

Don't Forget the Day and Date!

And prepare for the arrival of DAN RICE'S huge, complete, and moral Exhibition.

TWO EXHIBITIONS EACH DAY,
Afternoon and Evening.

Doors open at 2 and 7 o'clock P. M. Exercises to commence half an hour later.

Admission, 50 cents; children under nine years, 25 cents.

THURSDAY, : : : MAY 2, 1867.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE CATHOLIC WORLD.—We have received from the Catholic Publication Society, of which Mr. Lawrence Kehoe, No. 126 Nassau street, New York, is the general agent, the April and May numbers of this really excellent Monthly Magazine, and having once seen and perused it, we do not know any consideration that would induce us to do without it. It is beyond question the best publication of its kind that has ever been issued from the press of this country, and while it is worthy the perusal of all readers, being devoted to general literature and science, for the Catholic it has a charm, an interest and a merit that no one can fail to feel and appreciate who has ever perused its pages. It forms a double column octavo magazine of 144 pages each number, making two large volumes of 1,728 pages each year, and is furnished at $5 per annum. To our Catholic readers who appreciate a high order of literature; and who can spare $5 for the gratification of that taste, we cannot too highly recommend the "Catholic World." We know if you subscribe for it one year you will continue its patron throughout life, as the very first number you peruse will so enchant and interest you that you will not willingly dispense with its monthly visits.

This association also issues Catholic Tracts, designed for the dissemination of religious truths and moral instruction, which are furnished at the low price of fifty cents per hundred copies. The Lemke Association of Carrolltown and the St. John Societies of Johnstown and Altoona are the proper mediums in this part of the State for the circulation of these tracts, and to these organizations we specially commend the Catholic Publication Society and its numerous religious and literary publications.

BREVITIES.—We regret to learn that our young friend, C. W. Easly, of Johnstown, had the misfortune to saw off the point of his left thumb, a few days ago, while working at his (the carpenter) trade.——A new schedule went into effect on the Pa. R. R. on Monday. The only change produced by it in the running of the Branch train is that it arrives here at 10.20 instead of 9.40 in the morning, as heretofore.——A band of itinerant vagabonds, usually denominated gipsies, passed through our town on Tuesday. ——An Englishman named Isaac Collins was seriously injured by being run over by a locomotive, near Lilly's station, on Thursday night last. Being a stranger, friendless and penniless, he was taken to the county poor house for treatment.——The father of our townsman, A. C. Mullin, Esq., died in Bedford a couple of weeks ago.——A drizzling rain and chilling winds marked the advent of the flowery month of May in this vicinity.——A corps of engineers is said to be at work surveying routes with a view to the shortening of the Penn'a R'il Road.——A Temperence Convention, in which Cambria, Blair and Clearfield counties will be represented, is to assemble at Altoona to-day. ——The absence of the editor will account for all shortcomings in our paper this week.

THE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Tuesday last ground was broken on corner of Julian and Horner streets, immediately opposite the site of the present church building, in this borough, for the erection of a new Catholic Church, which it is proposed to have under roof before the coming winter sets in. The building is to be 100 feet in length and 64 feet in width, with 18 inch walls 32 feet and a tower 130 feet in height. All the stone required for the foundation and a great portion of the lumber is already on the ground, and the worthy pastor, Rev. R. C. Christy, and his congregation have gone to work with a determination to erect a church edifice that will not only accommodate a much larger number than the present building, but one that will be a credit to the town and a befitting monument to the zeal and devotion of the Catholics hereabouts. The entire walls will be faced with pressed brick, to be furnished by the Johnstown Brick Manufacturing Company. The ceremony of laying the corner stone will be performed some time during the present month.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—We learn from the Johnstown Tribune that on Wednesday morning of last week the Fast Line bound west ran off the track about one mile east of that place. The locomotive was thrown off the track by an obstruction and ran upon the ties a distance of 800 feet, when the locomotive turned over and the baggage and passenger cars ran together, making a great wreck. The locomotive was entirely stripped of its upper adornments by a passenger car running on top of it. Singular to say, there was no one seriously injured.

IT IS NOT our province to tell ladies when they should buy new bonnets and other millinery goods, but we will tell them, on the authority of our better half, that if they do want to buy they can find all styles, sizes and shapes of head covering, from a common patty-pan to a large flour scoop, comprised in the handsome stock recently received by Mrs. Doyle and Miss Rush. Don't say that we told you, ladies, but just slip round and take a good look at the many nice things they have for sale.

CHERISH your best hopes as a faith and abide by them in action, and while you are doing all this don't forget that James M. Thompson, on High street, has in store, and is constantly making accessions to, one of the most varied and extensive stocks of dry goods, notions, groceries, etc., that Ebensburg can boast of. Jim is always attentive and obliging, and we feel sure that the man who will give more goods for less money than he does has not yet been found in this community. Go and see.

DAN RICE'S CIRCUS, which is to exhibit in this place to-morrow, is represented by the Harrisburg papers and others of our exchanges as a most entertaining and deserving exhibition, and one that every body will be delighted in witnessing. Let Dan get a full bumper from the "frosty sons," and our word for it they will enjoy a rich treat.

EDITORIALITIES, LOCAL AND GENERAL.—Flour Inspector.—Richard Perry, Esq., of Allegheny county, has been appointed by Governor Geary, Flour Inspector for the Western District of Pennsylvania, in place of Capt. Wm. B. Coulter, lately deceased.

State Fair.—It has been decided to hold the State Fair on the ground of the East Pennsylvania Agricultural and Mechanical Society at Norristown. It will take place in September next. The only question now is who decided this to be so.

Information Wanted—Of the man who will give 25 cents apiece for the nickel cents of the old coinage. A democratic raftsman the other day gave us 100 coppers for six months' subscription to the FREEMAN—among them twelve of the coinage referred to.

Fire.—The dwelling and barn of Jacob Shanefelt, of Woodbury township, Blair county with nearly all their contents, were destroyed, a few days since, by fire communicated from a pile of straw in the stable, to which a little boy had unwittingly set fire with a match. No insurance.

Postponed.—The trial of Miss Maria Young, charged with causing the death of her father near Hollidaysburg, a short time since, by administering poison to him, has been postponed until the July Term of the Blair county Court, in order to enable her counsel to prepare for her defence.

Strange Fatality.—We learn from the Blairsville Press that two young men (cousins) named Armstrong, residing in Rostraver township, Westmoreland county, three miles distant from each other, were killed by lightning on Monday of last week—one about 8 o'clock in the morning and the other about 12 o'clock, noon.

Hon. A. W. Benedict, Clerk of the House of Representatives of this State, and one of the Secretaries of the Republican State Central Committee, died on the 28th of April at Huntingdon, of erysipelas. He was widely known and much respected. It is believed that he started the first daily penny newspaper ever published in Philadelphia.

Merited Punishment.—James Matthews, whose pursuit through a portion of Cambria and capture in Indiana county will be remembered by our readers, was at the recent sitting of the Huntingdon county Court found guilty of burning the barn and killing two horses belonging to Mr. Goshorn, of Tell township, that county, and sentenced by Judge Taylor to fifteen years' imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

Singular Death.—A man in Pittsburg left his home, on Saturday evening last, against the earnest remonstrance of his wife, for the purpose of paying a visit to Allegheny City, and on his return, three or four hours after, found his wife a corpse—her death having been produced by internal injury caused by the violent emotion incident to the quarrel with her husband, she being in a delicate condition at the time.

Auditing Bounty Accounts.—The Borough and Township Auditors of Cambria county seem to forget that they subject themselves to a fine of $50, one half of which goes to the informer and the other half to the school fund, for failing to publish a condensed statement in some one of the county papers of the condition of the bounty fund in their respective boroughs and townships. It is full time that this matter was attended to.

Salt in Lamps.—An Iowa editor who has tried the experiment recommends the use of salt in lamps, alleging that greater brilliancy is obtained in the light and 25 per cent. saved in the consumption of oil. The lamp should be half filled with common salt and then filled up with oil. The paper does not say so, but we presume the same salt will do for an indefinite time. The experiment is a simple one, and may be worth a trial.

SPEAKING of Spring fashions a tailor says there is not much change in gentlemen's pants. There is less than usual in most gentlemen's pockets, but even that little will accomplish a great deal if expended in the purchase of cheap goods at the renowned emporium of V. S. Barker on High street, where dress goods, dry goods, groceries, etc., have just been received in the greatest profusion, and where low prices and quick sales is the motto which has been adopted and will be strictly adhered to in all business transactions. There indeed may be found the Vallie that leads to fortune, and it is a Vallie that none who have ever traveled to will wish to depart from.

STILL AHEAD.—John D. Thomas has taken the front rank in the Boot and Shoe trade of this community, and with a determination to maintain his position, has within the past few days added very extensively to his stock of ladies', gent's and children's boots and shoes for spring and summer wear, and is now prepared to fit any description of a foot, from the smallest to the largest. John's stock is unequalled by any in town, and is altogether of his own and the best eastern manufacture, and cannot fail to give satisfaction. We advise an examination of his assortment, which will be sold as cheap as the cheapest, and warranted of the best make and material.

ON THE FOURTH OF JULY NEXT the bird of freedom will scream from the Gulf of Mexico clear up to the North Pole, and if he knows what's what will doubtless proclaim to the world and the "rest of mankind" that Mills & Davis have the best goods, the cheapest goods, and the most varied assortment of all kind, that has ever graced the shelves of any store in the goodly town of Ebensburg. If he fails to do this the fact will be none the less apparent to those who have the good sense to study their own interests by making their purchases from the above firm. Let all others go and do likewise.

SADDLES, HARNESS, &c.—As this is the proper time for purchasing new saddles, harness, &c., as well as having old harness, gears, &c., repaired, we commend to the patronage of farmers and others needing work in that line our friend, Hugh A. McCoy, whose shop will be found on High street, in the front room over Mills & Davis' store. Hugh is prepared to do all such jobs in a workmanlike manner and at exceedingly moderate prices, and as home industry deserves encouragement we trust that he will have his hands full of work.

OUR JOHNSTOWN LETTER.

Sabbath School Convention—Swindling and Matrimony—A Gay Deceiver—Disorderly Conduct—Welsh & Jones Estate—Amusements—Odd Fellows—Improvements—Diabolism—Thanks, &c., &c.

JOHNSTOWN, APRIL 28, 1867.

Dear Freeman—Owing to unavoidable absence last week I failed to make my appearance in the role of local correspondent, and to make amends will now give a brief resume of events which have transpired since my last.

On Thursday and Friday next the Sabbath School Convention already announced in your columns will be holden here, and the programme of exercises, as laid down, will render it quite an interesting affair. The prettiest feature on that occasion will be a procession of all the schools combined, and under the efficient Chief Marshalship of Gen. Potts and able assistants this part of the programme will be certainly well carred out. The great number of Sabbath School children who will participate in the procession cannot fail to make it large, novel and interesting. The ability of the Rev. gentlemen having the matter in charge is evidence sufficient that a radical benefit will accrue to the system from an interchange of views.

A bold and successful attempt at obtaining money under false pretences was made here a few days ago by a man named Henry Rettig. It appears that he presented himself at the office of the Cambria Iron Company and gave his name as John Layton, an employee of the Company, stating that he had just received a letter from Somerset containing the intelligence that his mother was lying at the point of death, and desiring his presence immediately. In proof of this statement he produced a letter, postmarked Somerset, in which all he had said was verified. Being out of money he desired an order for what was due him, amounting, as he said, to twenty-five dollars. The clerk, naturally commiserating his circumstances, wrote him an order for the amount, and Rettig took it to the cashier. Layton's account was examined and it was found that there was a balance due him of $32, and the enterprising Rettig concluded he would take it all. In a couple hours afterwards the veritable Layton appeared, and, having heard of his mother's illness, came to draw his wages for the purpose of visiting her. Imagine his surprise when informed that the money had already been paid in his name, and couldn't be drawn a second time. Layton lost no time in bringing a respectable citizen, known to both parties, who bore witness to the fact that he was the proper claimant. The cashier was in a quandary; neither of the men having been long here of course he could not remember faces, and no doubt the assumed Layton had absconded. Not so, however, for in the meantime Rettig alias Layton had been improving his time by marrying a young lady to whom he had been paying his addresses, and after the ceremony sent his baggage to the station, with the intention of leaving with his new made wife on the next train. The bona fide Layton suspected Rettig was the individual who had assumed his name from the fact that he had boarded for a short time in the same house and had made inquiries which, when brought to bear on the matter, I oked suspicions. Our worthy chief of police found out that Rettig was about leaving, and going to the depot captured the "gay deceiver" and escorted him to the lock-up. After a hearing in the case and on two similar charges preferred by other parties, the accused, in default of $800 bail, was sent to your town to answer at the coming Court.

The monthly recurrence of pay-day at the Mill brought out the usual amount of "cases" and induced the usual number of hilarious individuals to indulge their quarreling propensities. On a close calculation there is a very large amount of fight in every half pint of our tanglefoot, and as soon as the necessary steam is up the result can be anticipated. Three young men who had imbibed the necessary amount met on Canal street, on Saturday evening, and "agreeing to disagree," they soon had a first-class nose mashing and eye bunging engagement under headway. One of them at length concluded to vary the exercises by pulling forth a large knife, but fortunately at that particular juncture the police made their appearance, and after a brief resistance the belligerents were captured and accommodated with lodgings for the night in the "jug." Next morning they paid a high price for their excellent sleeping accommodations, and if the luxury of a free fight, a night in an uncomfortable cell and a large slice off their month's wages was good fun, they certainly had a very amusing time of it. Several other "drunks" made their appearance during the evening, but a wholesome fear of being "jugged" soon drove them back to their holes.

The heirs of the Welsh & Jones estate have been trying to sell their property on Portage street, better known as the "Island," during the past week. Very few sales were effected, however, owing, it is said, to the unreasonable expectations of the owners. The greater proportion of the property, it is true, is valuable, but they appear to have set the valuation altogether too high to induce any person to invest to any great extent. The greater part of the ground offered must be withdrawn from the market for an indefinite period if they wish to realize the exorbitant prices expected. In this event the growth of that portion of our town will be seriously retarded.

Wm. Headrick disposed of his property at the head of Portage street, one day last week, to John Sivert for the sum of $1,500.

Balls, hops, dances, frolics and "gum sucks" were some of the innocent amusements indulged in here last week. The German Association led off with a hop on Monday night, which was largely attended, well conducted and greatly enjoyed.

The Odd Fellows have fitted up the third story of the Arcade for a lodge room and removed thereto. Fronheiser's Hall, just vacated by them, will be returned to its legitimate purpose, the use of the public.

Johnstown will expand more this year in the way of public and private improvements than during any previous year. Nearly one hundred buildings are now in course of erection in town and vicinity.

A diabolical attempt was made to throw the Philadelphia Express from the track, near this place, on Thursday evening week, by means of an iron bar placed in a frog at one of the switches, but fortunately the devilish effort failed, though the train was severely jarred in passing over it.

The thanks of "Sku Bal" are due Messrs. Eddie L. Boggs and Robert Frazer, the gentlemanly and efficient clerks of C. T. Frazer, druggist, for favors received. To these young gentlemen Mr. Frazer is indebted to a great extent for having the neatest and best arranged drug store in Western Pennsylvania.

SKU BAL.

AGUE, CHILLS, OR INTERMITTENT FEVER cured, or the money refunded. Dr. Witt's Ague Pills are entirely a new medicine, and having been tried in over 1200 of the very worst and obstinate cases of Chills and Fever, and not failed even in one case to effect a speedy cure, the proprietor guarantees them to cure in every case, even after all other medicines fail. Those suffering should immediately give them a trial. They are warranted to cure. For sale by Druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of the price, $1. Address Dr. Witt, Box 611, Cincinnati, Ohio. 1y.

FRAZER'S DRUG STORE.—Among the recent changes in Johnstown we notice that our friend, C. T. Frazer, has taken quarters in the brick building on Franklin street adjoining the site of his former drug store, and has opened out a larger stock than ever of fresh drugs, medicines, etc. Frazer is one of the most careful and competent druggists in the State, and commands as he deserves the patronage of all classes. The most effective cough medicine ever used in our family was compounded by Mr. Frazer himself, and we have no hesitation in commending his preparations to general use.

PAINTING.—Those of our readers who design building or improving houses already built, will find it to their interests to employ our Altoona friends, John Rockett & Co., to do the painting, papering, etc. Any work in their line will be contracted for at the lowest figures and executed in the highest style of the art. See their card.

"DELAY not till to-morrow what should be done to-day." Cure that cough before it is forever too late. One bottle of Coe's Cough Balsam will cure. It is agreeable, cheap and effectual. Delays are dangerous. A word to the wise is sufficient.

MARRIED.

At the Chapel in Carrolltown, on Monday, 28th ult., by Rev. Father Edmund, Mr. N. J. BENDON and Miss MARY M'COY, all of Carrolltown.

"Than" and his winsome bride have the good wishes of every person. He served through the late war as a gallant soldier, and now has taken up arms in a more delightful and glorious campaign, and we can only hope that he will fare better with the fair one he has decoyed than he did enduring the perils of the battle-field. And, "Mollie," you have won a soldier and a man whose heart will ever respond to your own in all that is noble and generous. Happy and mirthful has been your union—may mutual love and mutual enjoyment ever attend your wedded life. E.

DIED.

At the residence of her son-in-law, Luther Stiles, in Blacklick township, on the 28th ult., Mrs. MARIA CRAIG, in the 64th year of her age.

Sister, rest from sin and sorrow,
Death is o'er and life is won;
On thy slumber dawns no morrow—
Rest, thine earthly race is run.

Dearest sister, thou has left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that has bereft us—
He can all our sorrows heal.

Fare thee well, dear mother, sister,
With our tones of earthly love;
Oh! how much we'll daily miss her—
But we'll meet in realms above. S.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—All persons knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned on book account, or by notes now due, are requested to call and settle the same either by paying the cash (which, of course, would be preferred) or giving or renewing their notes, on or before the 1st day of July next, as after that date all accounts remaining unsettled will be left in the hands of a proper officer for collection. What is the Cause of Disease?
Impurity of the Blood.
Therefore, as it is acknowledged by every body that Dr. Strickland's Purifying Anti-Bilious Pills will purify the blood, by regulating the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels, they will cure Habitual Costiveness, Headache, Sour Stomach, Biliousness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Dizziness, Boils, Blotches, and all Scrofulous Diseases. They are mild and safe pills, do not gripe, and may be taken with safety by either the young or old. All virgin corrections of the stomach and bowels, by Strickland's Pills, are speedily followed by a healthy appetite, good digestion, and sound health. Dr. Strickland's Pills are sold by druggists, and by any body who wishes to make a bottle of family medicine, by Dr. Strickland's recipe, for a trifle. Directions for making and using are with each package.
FIRST CLEANSE THE SYSTEM

Dr. Strickland's
TONIC
Is called upon by many to be called for Dyspepsia, and Nervous Diseases, as a specific for such complaints. Debility, bad appetite, restores the digestive organs, gives tone to the stomach, and strengthens the nervous system. The Doctor has thousands of letters testimonial surrounding him, over twenty years. He has cured them all, and will cure you. Don't be humbugged by worthless compounds, but get the genuine, which you can obtain at Dana & Co's, Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio. One is from the wife of the Editor of this paper, who says he has cured him after suffering over twenty years. He has cured thousands, but is especially for the dyspeptic. Trial bottles at 50 cts. Regular size bottle $1. If you will send $1 you will find this a good investment. Sold by druggists generally. Dana & Co., Proprietors, Cincinnati, Ohio.
THEN STRENGTHEN IT.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Cambria county, and to me directed, there will be exposed to Public Sale, on the premises, on SATURDAY, the 4th day of MAY next, at 10 o'clock a. m., the following Real Estate, to wit:

All the right, title and interest of Patrick McGurk, of, in and to a lot of ground, situate in Cambria borough, Cambria county, fronting on River street, and extending back to Conemaugh river, adjoining lot of Mrs. Fitzpatrick on the north and lot of T. Bojohn on the south, having thereon erected a one-story plank house and plank stable, now in the occupancy of Patrick Toner.

Taken into execution and to be sold at the suit of Terance Keenan.

JAMES MYERS, Sheriff.

PRIVATE SALE.—The subscriber offers at Private Sale two valuable tracts of TIMBER LAND, situate in Jackson township, Cambria county, and known as the "Lloyd Property." ALSO—Four other valuable tracts of LAND, situate in Cambria and Jackson townships, and known as the "Pensacola Property." ALSO—TWO FARMS adjoining the borough of Ebensburg—one containing about 100 acres; the other about 150 acres. The buildings are all in good repair, with never-failing springs of water near the house.

☞ Persons wishing to purchase or sell Farms or Timber Lands, will do well by calling on me before buying or offering them for sale. F. A. SHOEMAKER, TIMBER LAND FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers for sale a tract of unimproved Land located in Allegheny tp., Cambria county, about one mile from Chest Springs, adjoining lands of Chas. Connery, Joseph Henry, and others, containing about SIXTY-FOUR ACRES, and well timbered throughout with pine, oak, hickory, and other marketable timber. This property will be sold at a bargain, and upon liberal terms. Further information can be obtained from John Bradley, or the undersigned, at Loretto. JOHN McNAMARA.

THE CAPRICE OF FORTUNE.—I had neither time nor space yesterday evening to give you the following anecdote, related in La Patrie, of Lord Gray, whose death has caused so much regret in the English society of this channel: Lord Gray was one evening returning from his club, when he perceived the loss of his pocket book, containing 40.000 francs. Lord Gray searched the pocket of his coat, but in vain. He quietly returned home. Next morning his servant went to his room at an early hour, and informed him that a lady wished to speak to him. Lord Gray desired that she should be shown into his drawing room. "My Lord," said his visitor, "you dropped your pocket book; I bring it back to you." The voice was sweet and low, but so closely was the lady veiled it it was impossible to guess her age or appearance. "Madam," replied Lord Gray, "you have rendered me a service for which I heartly thank you. Allow me to ask if I may venture to offer you some remembrance of my gratitude." The lady then hesitatingly confessed that she had recently lost her husband, whose death had left her the charge of three little children, and that so utter was her destitution she had actually been tempted to keep the pocket book. Lord Gray returned it to her, merely saying: "You are my creditor—you or your children will repay me later." Lord Gray received a visitor five years after this scene occurred, who appeared a total total stranger to him. It was a lady. She handed him a velvet portmonaie, on which his cypher and coronet were embroidered in gold; within lay forty notes of 1,000f each. "You will allow me to retain the old purse in memory of your munificent generosity," she remarked.

AN ARTIFICIAL HORSE.—At the Paris Exposition it is said that a novelty will be on exhibition, in the shape of an artificial horse. The ingeniously constructed animal, when ready for the road, will travel twenty-five miles without stopping, and afterwards may be wound up in a few moments so as to go as much farther, and so on indefinitely. A horse like this must be a valuable acquisition, provided it can be bought as cheaply as the noble animal of which it is a copy.

MEDICAL PREPARATIONS.

POLAND'S
Magic Bilious Powders.

This Preparation is the discovery of Rev. J. W. POLAND, formerly Pastor of the Baptist Church in Goffstown, N. H.—a man dearly beloved by that denomination throughout N. England. He was obliged to leave the pulpit and study medicine to save his own life, and his Magic Powders are one of the most wonderful discoveries of modern times. It is the GREAT LIVER and BILIOUS REMEDY, which completely throws in the shade all other discoveries in medicine, and it affords him much gratification that they receive the unanimous approbation of all who have tested them. The Magic Bilious Powders are a POSITIVE CURE FOR LIVER COMPLAINT in its most aggravated form, and an immediate corrector of all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS. Excellent for Headache, Constipation, Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin, Drowsiness, Dizziness, Palpitation, Heartburn, and a most wonderful

Cure and Preventative of Fever & Ague

(We advise all who are troubled with this fearful malady to always keep the Powders on hand ready for immediate use.)

Here are a few important particulars:—1st. They are the great specific for Bilious Affections. 2d. They are the only known remedies that will cure Liver Complaint.—3d. They are the only known remedy that will cure Constipation. 4th. The Powders are so thorough in their operation that one package will be all that the majority of those using them will require to effect a cure. 5th. They are a mild and pleasant yet the most effectual cathartic known. 6th. They are the cheapest and best medicine extant, as they can be sent by mail to any part of the globe for the price, 50 cents.

Circulars, containing certificates, information, etc., sent to any part of the world free of charge. ☞Sold by all Druggists, or by mail on application to

REAL ESTATE SALES.

PRIVATE SALE!—The subscriber will sell the following described Property at Private Sale:
One House at Portage Station, on the Pa. R. R., with 2 acres of land. Suitable for a Store Room or a Dwelling.
One House and 90 Acres Land, on Pa. R. R., one half mile west of Portage, opposite the siding of the Union Mills of the subscriber, and at the terminus of the railroad of White & Co.
One House and 2 Acres Land at Portage, now occupied by Louisa Keepers. A good site for a Store.
One Water Power Saw Mill, within ten rods of the Pa. R. R., one half mile west of Portage, together with timber land, 100, 200, or 300 acres, to suit purchasers. The barns and houses on the same cost $1,500 when lumber was cheap.
Or, I will sell the whole tract of 480 acres, with timber enough on the same to run the water mill for seven years. The property has 1,500 to 2,000 feet of side tracks connecting with the Pa. R. R.
A general Warrantee Deed will be given on ten days notice for all the foregoing property, and possession of all houses, etc., will be given on 1st April next.
Call soon, as the property will be disposed of on or before the 1st April.
The improvements cost the subscriber $6,000.
150 Acres of the Land is timbered with good Sugar, and the Land itself is warranted to be as good as any in Cambria county.
Three creeks pass through the Land, viz: Trout Run, McIntosh Run and Wright's Run.
There is COAL on the Land, and any amount of CORD WOOD.
The location is the only outlet to the coal lands of Burke and the Wm. M. Lloyd & Co. lands.
Two pieces of the Land adjoin the land formerly owned by Hon. Thos. A. Scott, and known as the M'Coy Farm.
One-third the purchase money will be required down; the balance in six and twelve months.
Ten per cent. will be deducted for cash payments.
The property will be SOLD in preference to being RENTED, as the subscriber has not time to collect rents.
The House and Lot, say 1 Acre of Land, at Portage, now occupied by Louisa Keepers, will be sold low, if sold soon. Also, the Store Room at the same place, with 2 Acres Land, formerly occupied by Victor Voeghtly—sold to him at one time for $725—will now be sold for $600. The former will be sold for $350 cash, or its equivalent.
CALL SOON!

MISCELLANEOUS.

HARTFORD
LIVE STOCK INSURANCE COMPANY.
CASH CAPITAL $500,000.
We are now prepared to insure LIVE STOCK against both Death and Theft, in this live and reliable Company. Owners of stock have now the opportunity, by insuring with this Company, of obtaining security and remuneration for the loss of their animals in case of DEATH or theft.
OWNERS OF HORSES,
Manufacturers, Farmers, Teamsters, Expressmen, Physicians, and in fact all who are to any extent dependant upon the services of their horses in their daily vocations, should insure in this Company, and thus derive a protection against the loss of their animals, which are in many cases the sole means of support to their owners.
FARM STOCK.
Farmers and others owning cattle should avail themselves of this means of saving the value of their stock, and secure an equivalent for the loss which would otherwise fall heavily upon them in being deprived of their Cattle, by insuring in this, the
PIONEER COMPANY OF AMERICA!
By insuring in this Company you exchange a certainty for an uncertainty. No man can tell whether his animals may not be stolen or die through some unforseen calamity.
☞ Competent Agents wanted, to whom a liberal compensation will be paid. Apply to KERR & CO., General Agents.
April 4, 1867.-1y. Altoona, Pa.
